

- Chip, a lot of things go through a viewers mind when first encountering the Fester Gallery, its one of those indelible experiences

- I hear that a lot Terri, its like the Challenger or the Kennedy thing

- Right, there's definitely a "where were you when" factor at work here, but what surprised me most was the gallery statement that prior to undertaking and completing this work last week, you had never done cat photography, that's almost unbelievable

- You are right Terri - I had by some fluke won the European Medieval Architecture Cat Photographer of the Year 1996

"For he counteracts the Devil, who is death, by brisking about the life. "

"For there is nothing sweeter than his peace when at rest"

"For if he meets another cat he will kiss her in kindness"

For he has the subtlety and hissing of a serpent, which in goodness he suppresses.
